Kristen Devaney

Group Chief Financial Officer,
PCI Developments and Warrington
PCI Management

Kristen Devaney is a Partner and Group Chief Financial Officer of PCI Developments and Warrington PCI Management, where she provides strategic leadership across finance, capital markets, governance, and technology for one of British Columbia's leading real estate development and property management platforms. She plays a central role in shaping enterprise strategy and structuring complex transactions alongside institutional and private capital partners.

With more than 20 years of experience spanning real estate, infrastructure, and professional services, Kristen is recognized for her ability to guide organizations through growth and transformation while aligning long-term financial strategy with community-focused development. She previously held senior leadership roles at Intracorp and Plenary Group and began her career at Deloitte.

Beyond her executive role, Kristen is an active industry and community leader. She serves as Co-Chair of the BC Children's Hospital Foundation's Real Estate, Construction & Development Committee and provides advisory support to the YMCA of BC. She is also a frequent industry event speaker and mentor committed to advancing women in finance and real estate. In the community, Kristen is a coach with the North Shore Girls Soccer Club, where she focuses on building confidence, resilience, and leadership in young female athletes.
